Defence of the Departing

Vistani blade Mesmerelda

"Long favoured by street performers, this vistani blade was forged to dazzle audiences. A strip of bright red cloth has been wrapped around its hilt, winds through the back of its blade, and ends in little golden coins that dangle from it. These coins jingle and sway as the blade is swung, producing a sound similar to a coin purse being rattled.

Mesmerelda was originally carried by a troupe of traveling vistana but in the years since it has been passed from sword dancer to magician, and beyond, in its travels, during which time it has been an integral part of many daring exhibitions of finesse and skill. Despite its storied history, the blade has never forgotten its roots amongst travelling folk."

Personality

Characteristics

Personal rules "I would never hurt an innocent."

“I will try to free the chains that bind unfairly.”

“If someone is distraught, I will try to console them and find what’s wrong.”

“We are all children of circumstance”

Personality trait If someone is in trouble, I’m always ready to lend help.

Ideal Respect. People deserve to be treated with dignity and respect. (Good)

Bond My instrument is my most treasured possession, and it reminds me of someone I love.

Flaw I find that most people are trustworthy. Hey, where’s my belt pouch?
